

CALL FOR PAPERS

PATHWAYS & INTERSECTIONS: NAVIGATING THE SOCIAL

The Sociology & Anthropology Graduate Student Caucus (SAGSC) Conference Committee at Carleton University welcomes submissions to its 5th annual graduate student conference. The committee aims to provide an intellectual platform where graduate students across disciplines may share their unique empirical research and theoretical insights.

Submissions from a wide range of disciplines and perspectives are encouraged.
Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Social justice, power & resistance
- Feminism, gender studies & queer theory
- Ecosystems, geographies & spatialization
- Activism and social movement scholarship
- Public sociology and anthropology
- Policing and criminology, penology
- Infrastructure & (im)mobilities
- Indigenous studies & decolonizing research
- Race, racialization & ethnic studies
- Methods and methodology
- Science and technology studies

March 31st –
April 1st 2017

Dunton Tower
Room 2017
Carleton University

15 minute
presentations

Please submit a 200-word abstract
with brief biography and contact information
in a Microsoft
Word document.

Send to:
sagsc.conference
@gmail.com

SUBMISSION DEADLINE

February 6, 2017

Presenters will be notified of their acceptance by
February 13, 2017

SAGSC Conference Committee at Carleton University:

Samantha McAleese, Rhys Steckle, Matthew Sanscartier, Sarah Fiander, Marie Coligado, Cora MacDonald, Warren Clarke, Nadine Powell