

Canadian Derivatives Scholarship

Are you conducting an innovative research project on derivatives?
Apply today for the 2018-2019 Canadian Derivatives Scholarship!

Award

One doctoral scholarship
(PhD, DBA, EDBA) of $25,000

Field of Study

Finance, mathematics, economics, financial engineering, accounting, actuarial or any other related disciplines

Eligibility Conditions

- Registered in a full-time doctoral program in a Canadian university
- Currently conducting a research project on exchange-traded derivatives or any topic related to the Montréal Exchange's business

Required Documents

- Completed application
- Plan of the research project (two pages maximum)
- Motivation letter (one page maximum)
- Curriculum vitae (CV)
- Official transcript for all previous university studies
- Two referrals (one from your Research Director and one from a Professor or Professional) submitted individually at m-x.ca/scholars

Selection Committee

- Jacques-A. Caussignac, Vice President, Derivatives Growth & Innovation, Montréal Exchange
- Julie Rochette, Vice President and Chief Regulatory Officer, Montréal Exchange
- Maher Kooli, Professor of Finance, ESG-UQAM
- Sylvain Perreault, Chief Compliance Officer, Desjardins Group

Selection Criteria

- Level of innovation and enthusiasm in research topic
- Leadership and initiative in academic or professional activities
- Outstanding academic performance

Additional Information

- Proof of enrolment in a full-time doctoral program is required
- Candidates are not restricted to the Canadian Derivatives Scholarship and can apply for additional scholarships

Submission Deadline

Friday, June 8, 2018 at 5:00 p.m. ET

For any questions or to complete the application, please visit: m-x.ca/scholars